

8th AMH Conference

The Drama of Medicine: All the Ward's a Stage

11 - 13 July 2011

University of Leicester

A conference to explore the dramas/stories, the players/people, and the stage/setting, of healthcare past and present. With keynote speakers, delegates' papers, and workshops.

Special appearances by:

Dannie Abse – reading and discussing some of his poetry

Jed Mercurio – The Doctor as Anti-hero

Booking and call for papers opens January 2011.

Early Bird discount rates until March 2011.

For more detail, go to: www.amh.ac.uk

For queries or to register interest, please contact:

amhconf@le.ac.uk

Booking is now open via www.amh.ac.uk or direct at www.shop.le.ac.uk

Call for Papers

Submissions for short paper presentations are invited for the above conference. Themes will cover the experience of, and ideas for practice and education, considering:

1. people, roles, characters
2. stories, narratives, plays, histories
3. settings, environments, enhancements and barriers

Presentations need to be 20 minutes maximum duration.

Please send abstracts (minimum 200, maximum 300 words) to:

amhconf@le.ac.uk

by 30 April 2011. Microsoft Word format preferred. Acceptance of papers will be conditional on at least one of each paper's authors having booked to attend the conference.

For enquiries, please email the above address.